Safety

The safety, security, and confidentiality of our clients are evoJets top priorities. We work exclusively with top tier Air Carriers, exceeding FAA Part 135 requirements, to ensure the highest level of safety.

Standards & Operators

The air carriers approved for service within the evoJets network must meet Federal Aviation Administration standards as well as those set forth by evoJets. The Federal Aviation Administration regulates Charter Operators under FAR Part 135 which establishes the safety, maintenance and operations standards by which all carriers are held.

Taking our commitment to safety one step further; evoJets requires that all of the carriers within our network are reviewed by the industry's leading independent charter certification organization: The Aviation Research Group / US (ARG/US).

Security

With evoJets, you have the comfort of knowing that every passenger who has flown on the aircraft before you has been security screened by the Transportation Security Administration (TSA).

Scheduling flights requires the full legal names of every passenger. All passengers over the age of 18 must present two forms of identification before entry onto the aircraft, one of which must be a valid, government issued photo ID. Passengers under the age of 18 must be identified by the lead passenger.

All aircraft are inspected prior to boarding and pilots maintain the right to search passengers and their luggage. All aircraft are locked and secured when crewmembers are absent from the plane.
